Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 15 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Friday cloudy in west, patchy drizzle. east brighter and warmer.

This Evening and Tonight:
Some late sunshine towards Inverness and the Great Glen but cloudier conditions in the west spreading east overnight. A few spots of rain or drizzle likely over western hills. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Friday:
Mostly cloudy across the west with patchy light rain or drizzle, limited bright intervals. Elsewhere largely dry with variable cloud and some warm sunny intervals. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Some sunny spells over East Highland Saturday but generally the weekend looks mostly cloudy with occasoinal rain. Damp start on Monday then brightening up.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.